

CABWHP Presents:

The Family Reunion

DESCRIPTION

With health disparities continuing to be at crisis levels in California and across the nation, the California Black Women's Health Project (CABWHP) has set a goal to raise $1,000,000 in funding to further our mission of advancing health justice for California's Black women and girls. Our organization's programs span areas impacting women's health and well-being from preconception to aging, including; mental, maternal, reproductive, and sexual health, violence prevention, and the impact of social determinants on health.

This year CABWHP is hosting impactful events and collaborating with partners across the state to further its mission. All donations will strengthen operations and support existing programs focused on training, educating, and building the capacity of Black women to become health advocates and activists. CABWHP consistently builds partnerships and alliances with community-based organizations and has developed programs with support from the California Wellness Foundation, The California Endowment, the California Healthcare Foundation and more. We are excited to share that our next 30th-anniversary celebratory event, The Family Reunion, will take place on Sunday, June 30th in Inglewood, CA. Envision a health fair meets block party and come join a joyful celebration of family, friends, and the remarkable strides we have made in Black women's health over the last 30 years.

SUPPORT REQUEST

We call on you to support our event goal of raising $100,000 to support our organization's mission to advocate for policies and practices that promote and improve Black women and girls' physical, spiritual, mental, and emotional well-being in California. You can support us by becoming a sponsor, making a donation, becoming a vendor or tabling partner, or just attending!
